

Art Since 1945: mainstream & margins—Analysis 1

RULES: Write about each of these images found on the MoMA website and on line. Use your book, museum websites and/or other books to answer. Do not use Wiki sites, encyclopedia, dictionary, or other inappropriate sites. Do not use quotes to say something you should say yourself. Quotes are only used to support your comments, not used instead of them.

Use my comments as guides. See the grading rubric.

Address these issues for both:

1. describe carefully.
2. Identify each piece by name, artist, date, materials, size.
3. Identify the style, time period, and contexts for each. Say how these things influence the way the work looks.
4. Tell what each work has been influence by, such as previous styles, artists, common culture, artist intention, etc.
5. Say what, if anything, each is reacting against.
6. Then, at the end, compare and contrast. Discuss what is similar and what is different when comparing the two works.

12 point type. 1½ spacing. At least 4-5 pages carefully written and edited.

Due Saturday, February 22, noon.

The Vietnam Veterans Memorial, 1980-82

Maya Lin

Below are listed some websites you might use. In addition to questions asked above, answer these:

1. discuss the political context leading to the creation of the memorial. This will include some information about the Vietnam War and controversy surrounding the monument.

2. discuss the meaning of a monument. What does Lin say is the purpose of a memorial? How did this inform her decision to make it look the way it does?
3. The Vietnam Memorial is a public monument. How does this differ from other artworks, seen in art galleries and museums?
