

CONTOUR line

Week One

Week One January 20 for next week: Working with Line as Contours

Sketchbook Assignment: This assignment is designed to set a standard for the sketchbook work the rest of the semester. Practice full body proportions. Do at least 12 careful sketches. See examples hand-out.

Assignment: Line drawing of body parts. Look at the samples on website. After doing the sketchbook assignment, develop a finished drawing using line drawings made from observation of life and/or some you have found in your research. Your finished drawing should have at least 10 different contour fragments arranged, layered or otherwise composed in an interesting finished piece. No value or modeling. Only interesting line. Pay special attention to your line quality. Some of the figures can be from your proportions studies.

Fill the page or use white space carefully.

Plan to spend about 1 1/2 hour to 2 hours on drawing.
