Your first project is to work with value using only three colors and white. The painting will be in acrylic paint using burnt sienna, ultramarine blue, yellow ochre and white. It will be painted on 11x17 Gessoed Bristol Board.

Using the still life I've set up, students will sketch out a composition and then draw it on their support, then paint it with local values.

This will be done in class in the hour and half provided.
